The North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) is the standard used by Federal statistical agencies in classifying business establishments for the purpose of collecting, analyzing, and publishing statistical data related to the U.S. business economy (census.gov).

NAICS codes are self-selected by companies according to the industry most of the business operates under. It is possible that multiple codes may apply to a single company.

Latest updates as well as reference files and tools are available from census.gov
Usually, a simple Google search for “the name of your company + NAICS code” will give you an idea about which applies to your company. You can also visit the NAICS website’s identification tools.
